"In a week school will begin. Then look out for some ignorant abuse of the school board."—Sawwood Advertiser.

It was always this and some people think that is what school boards are for.

See ad of Weymouth Agricultural and Industrial Society elsewhere in this issue, and then get your stuff ready for the fair, and also reserve that day to see the people's stuff, and see what other people do.

Whoever is responsible for the accident at Pittsfield which caused the loss of the nation of the fact, should be established that under any and all circumstances the president has "the right of way."

Some one with a nimble pencil has figured it out that the annual profits of the great meat packing company will be $75,000,000, but as the organization is not yet completed it is early to speculate as to what its profits will be.

Will the next Congress give us a further reduction in revenue tax? If not, why not? The showing for August justifies another reduction as the revenue was $9,000,000 in excess of expenditures and money continues to pile up in Uncle Sam's vaults.

President Mitchell of coal labor federation says the men engaged in the strike are as firm as ever. On the other hand coal operators say the end of the strike is near and the public is left to draw its own inference as to when the difficulty will be settled.

It is less than ten years since the Legislature set establishing Labor Day was passed and yet the young holiday has become a strong rival of our glorious 4th of July as it was evidenced on Monday. The day was generally observed and regular business gave way to its celebration.

The Social Labor party has nominated Michael T. Berry of Haverhill for governor and the Prohibition party has nominated William H. Partridge of Newton. As there are to be several other conventions and more men added to the list there is no special haste in picking out your man, but it is none too early to be sure you are registered and can vote when election day comes around.

AUGUST CRIMINAL RECORD.
The District Court has Seventy-Four Cases Less Than in Preceding Month.

The total number of criminal cases before the District Court during the month of August as reported by Probation Officer Spear was 129, 74 less than in July.

Of these cases, 44 were for drunkenness; 35 for disturbing the peace; 12 for assault; 6 for breaking and entering; 3 each for larceny and receiving stolen goods; 1 each for malicious injury to real estate, violating Park rules, liquor nuisance and indecent exposure.

The unfinished cases on Sept. 1, were as follows: October cases, 2; November cases, 1; December cases, 1; January cases, 1; February cases, 3; March cases, 6; April cases, 3; May cases, 7; June cases, 4; July cases, 24; August cases, 17.

Republican Caucus.
The Republican town committee met at Eagle hall, Ward 3, Wednesday night. Nearly every member of the committee was present. The chairman, R. W. Hunt, called the meeting to order and in the absence of the secretary, W. C. Earle was elected secretary pro tem.

A state was made up of delegates to the national convention and it was voted to hold the general caucus in Old Fellows Opera House East Weymouth, Wednesday evening, the 24th of this month.

The average wife would rather have her husband tell her everything, even though she doesn't believe half of what he says.

A Remarkable Record.
Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for over thirty years, during which time many millions of bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of croup in thousands of homes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, may children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale at William Webster's drug store.

ANOTHER TRIUMPH.

Defender of East Weymouth is Again a Winner.

The Knights of Columbus of Waltham celebrated Labor Day with what they rightly called a field day. There was a foot race, many games and pastimes, but the principal feature was a veteran fireman's muster in which twenty veterans joined in a contest for five prizes, aggregating $625.

A high wind prevailed which somewhat interfered with long distances, but in the main it was considered about as favorable for one as for another.

Much dissatisfaction is expressed as to the awarding of the first prize. A foreign substance was found in the stream of the Red Jacket of Cambridge which is said to have been inserted in the machine or pipe for the purpose of overcoming the break caused by the wind. Six companies joined in a protest against the record of the Red Jacket being allowed to stand, but after a protracted hearing and secret session, the committee overruled the protest and the record stands as follows:

It doesn't seem as if the price there in order to protect themselves and the public against over purchase on the part of some, who would it not be a good idea to give the power that is only able to buy a ton, a rebate of $10 per ton?

High School Graduates.

A recent graduation in regard to our High school and its efficiency has led us to look up the record of the class just graduated and we think we are justified in our assertion that few, if any, High schools in the state put so large a percentage of graduates in higher institutions without reserve or conditions. Of the thirty-seven graduates of 1902, Mary Blanchard and Lucy A. French are at Mt. Holyoke College; Teresa B. Conroy, Marion L. Ford, Jessie M. Lord, Marie M. Mitchell, Elizabeth G. Snyder and Louise M. Tirrell, Boston University; Elizabeth M. Lane, Bridgewater Normal; Dorothy F. Nash, Bradford Academy; Marjorie Westworth passed a successful examination at Vassar but will take a year's rest before entering; Myron L. Hall, Brown University; Lewis B. Bates and John H. Bruce, Tufts Medical; Thomas M. Connel, Joseph T. Smith and Joseph J. White, Dartmouth; Alice M. Nash, Simmons College; Carlton M. South and Thomas Leary, Mass. Inst. Tech.; Francis Stowell, teaching in Hillsboro; Catherine Frazer, Ellen L. Coffey and Charles B. Mitchell, Burdette College; Mary E. Hannan, Pemberton Shorthand School.

Others could have gone into any school or college but chose to enter into active business life.

Fortieth Anniversary.

At the recent fortieth anniversary exercises of Co. A, 45th Regiment Massachusetts Volunteers—held at Needville, Sept. 15, 1902—the following poem, written by Albert W. Mann, of South Weymouth, "President of the company association, was recited by him.

Always a grain of salt in my hand, for this loyal life

For the Fraternity and Charity, in the group

And in Rebellion's stormy days when we had a fight,

You proved your Loyalty to country, and our Starry

Banner bright.

There are many noble orders, with rites and rituals

And brotherhood and loyalty, and valiant and brave

But none so true and noble as the Army Blue.

So we call it not a day, which calls us here today,

From Boston and from Manchester, and places far Away, but one of those rare pleasures to meet comrades

And true, and true, and true, and true, and true, and true,

What precious memories are ours, some tender, and

And gay, and gay, and gay, and gay, and gay, and gay,

When 4000 Country's stirring call, we listed for the fray.

The Life in camp, the march, the fight, the dreadful grime, the

Off from the shadowy past and seem as real as then.

Ours was a noble regiment, with Codman, brave and true,

A better leader never drew sword, or led at a review.

With Wendell and Stearns and Winter on the line,

What wonder that the Johnnies fled before us, like the chaff!

Well, those glorious days are over, and now the Union stands,

In Wendell, in Frederick, and in Powell, the avenging of all

We're back to see the seal we sewed in hardships,

glorious, and true,

Dear brothers for all men, in these succeeding years.

ALBERT W. MANN.

Dear Sir: The late President of the FOUR SCORE YEARS.

M. C. DIZER of East Weymouth.

It is so seldom that we find a man who enters upon the eighth decade of life with his eye undimmed, his ear unimpaired, and all the faculties of earlier years retained, that when we do, we feel called upon to make mention of the remarkable event.

We find a man with all the foregoing conditions in Marshal Curtis Dizer of East Weymouth, who passed his eightieth birthday last Tuesday.

In the latter part of the 18th century John Dizer, a hardy, seafaring German, settled in Boston, in early life his son John came to Weymouth, learned the shoemaking trade, married Sophia French and settled down.

Among the children of this marriage was Marshal C. Dizer, who was born Sept. 22, 1822, and like most boys of his day spent a good part of his time in a little shoe-making shop then in vogue. While yet in his teens he made his first case of shoes alone and with the money thus earned began manufacturing on his own account and has had sixty years of upward growth.

The little shop became too narrow and larger quarters were sought for and in the green shop at the corner of Broad and Middle streets. The business continued to grow and a factory was built on Madison street which was supposed to be large enough to meet the requirements of all time, but it today would hardly be recognized as of any importance. Again and again have additions been made until the firm of M. C. Dizer & Co. occupy nearly or quite three acres of floor in the manufacture of several lines of men's and boys' shoes which find a market in every quarter of the globe.

Leather manufacturing is a feature of the business and it is probably the only concern in the world which can truly say of its product, "from hoof to foot."

We find a man with all the foregoing conditions in Marshal Curtis Dizer of East Weymouth, who passed his eightieth birthday last Tuesday.

In the latter part of the 18th century John Dizer, a hardy, seafaring German, settled in Boston, in early life his son John came to Weymouth, learned the shoemaking trade, married Sophia French and settled down.

NORFOLK COUNTY.

Edward Hobart, a life-long and respected citizen of Braintree died last week at the advanced age of 85 years.

To the Norfolk Police: Keep right on rounding up suspected burglars and thieves and snarl all small boys. We want to make this a good law and order town.—Norwood Advertiser.

Two of Needham citizens are said to be out $500 of good money in an effort to buy a large quantity of counterfeit bills. The package received proved to be worthless brown paper, but what if it had been otherwise.

The Hyde Park Republican Club, organized last week, met Wednesday evening and after deliberation became associated as a body with the Young Men's Republican Club. The meeting was full of enthusiasm and as a starter a committee on registration was elected and at once started in upon duty.

Rev. Ira Hardy was ordained and installed at Canton last week as pastor of Baptist Church in that town.

Rev. E. E. Faring for many years secretary and popular pastor of the Congregational Church at Norwood, closed his labors at that place on Sunday.

The interests of the Quincy Gas Co. have been taken in charge by the company controlling the gas plants at Haverhill and Amesbury. It is the intention of the new company to enlarge the power station on Brackett street, to extend the mains to sections of the city now uncovered, and to reduce the price.

Trains are becoming a nuisance in this town especially to the residents on the outskirts and away from those sections covered by the police. They call at back and front doors requesting "handouts" and if their requests are refused in many instances become abusive in their language.—Dedham Transcript.

High School Notes.

The following extract from a conversation which took place at Boston University recently.

Miss Tirrell, W. H. S. '02.—"Professor, may I take the advanced course in English given in the catalogue as English?"

English Professor—"The course you speak of is reserved for sophomores and we seldom allow freshmen to take it; we see, from what school do you come?"

Miss Tirrell—"From the Weymouth Mass. High."

Professor—"Well, the Weymouth High School has an excellent reputation here for its English preparation; I think you may try the course you desire."

fair.

—Rev. Melvin S. Nash, who has been spending his vacation in Bethlehem, N. H., returned to his parish on Sunday last and it is needless to say, was most heartily welcomed by all present at the morning service. He preached from the subject, "The Greatest Need of the Hour," taking this to be the spirit of Christ's teachings in our every day life, rather than the letter. Miss Bates rendered in a pleasing manner the contralto solo,
"Just As I Am" and will also sing next Sunday.

was given to the members of the pastor's Bible class and their ladies; music by Mrs. F. A. Sulis and Miss Angeline M.
Gutterston, recitations by Albert W. Mann previous appointment, delivering an address on "Ministerial Education," in the forenoon, and reading a paper on "Cash for Christ" in the after-forty, a dozen of the members spoke of impressions and encouragements received by attendance on the association. This evening at the church house, will be held the annual Bible school social—free to all scholars, their parents, and members of the church and congregation. Next Monday day morning, at half past ten o'clock, the pastor will preach on the

Weymouth Heights
—In one of the St. Louis Sunday Schools the classrooms are separated by glass partitions. A St. Louis paper says that during a session of the school one of the teachers was much annoyed by loud talking in an adjoining room.
At last, unable to bear it any longer, he mounted a chair and looked over the partition. Seeing that one boy, who was a little taller than the others, was talking a great deal, he leaned over, hoisted him over the partition and banged him into a chair in his room, saying, "How he talks!"
A quarter of an hour later a small head appeared round the door, and a meek, scared little voice said:—
"Please, sir, you've got our teacher."
